PPC MINIATURE ALBUM

郵便がキ

FLASH! The PPC Miniature Album is off the press. 'Tis another super-special surprise. Covering the whole Japanese Occupation issue—from March 4, 1942, to October 13, 1944—the PPC Miniature Album consists of 25 postal cards of the current issue (same card as the PPC FLASHES) and proper spaces for each stamp are provided. Respective philatelic information descriptive of each issue is provided likewise and written-up chronologically. Rizalino D. Arispia Sr., one of the PPC free lancers, conceived and wrote the Miniature Album and thereafter donated the whole idea to the PPC, gratis et amore. Relieving that it would prove interesting as an album and simultaneously as a guide for future reference of each member, our Club ordered the printing of these miniature albums. Printing of these albums is limited. Each member is entitled to purchase one copy only. Cost per album is P10. If you're interested in this PPC Miniature Album, place your order with the PPC immediately. The PPC Miniature is philatelic history in KALENDARIUS PHILATELICUS: Sunday, Sep. 17—Regular Meeting, Lecture & Auction. Kasama Luis G. Miranda, chairman Committee on Lectures & Exhibitions, will give an extemporaneous lecture... Sunday, Sep. 24—West & Tiomico Special Auction. A number of specialized collections and choiced items will be sold. Don't miss the West & Tiomico Special Auction, Sep. 24.—PME.

PPC FLASHES

Greetings! Kasama—
Human contact makes Stamp Collecting more interesting and a touch of human interest tied-up on collections or sidelines of many a PPC member as recorded in our Club's file, adds to it more lustre, as for instance—

KOLLECTORS & KOLLECTIONS: A cross-section of the professions of PPC members reveals that in our philatelic fraternity one needs the following: Proprietor, businessman, farmer, manager, auditor, accountant, cashier, certified public accountant, bookkeeper, secretary, chief clerk, stenographer, typist, employee, merchant, bank examiner, real estate man, agent, dealer, salesman, stamp-dealer, lawyer, physician, surgeon, dentist, pharmacist, chiroprapist, chemist, civil engineer, draftsman, mechanical engineer, architect, surveyor, artist, gold assessor, mechanic, movie actor, professor of music, ship master, teacher, barber, plumber, housekeeper, registered nurse, student, bishop, missionary, District Chief, etc... While Stamp Collecting is their main avocation, it's interesting to note that among their other hobbies or sidelines, one finds: Painting, music, gardening, cooking, reading, short-story-and-poetry writing, sports tennis, golf, boating, hunting, physical culture, pigeon raising for racer pigeons, dancing, model builder, radio ham, match labels, cigar bands, numismatics, mineral rocks, books old documents, cheques, chess, art-ques, novelties, archeology, conchology, miniature objects of art, odds and ends of practical interest if not worth, "trouble-shooting," etc... Peepesically, at his writing, our Club has 460 members and in this connection, mention may be made that Kasama L has nine children and he has built a complete collection of the Japanese Occupation issues for each of them; Kasama A and Kasama Z collect fakes, while Kasama P and Kasama S collect covers a la "baby size"; and then, there's Kasama D who gets a lot of fun chasing corner straightedges...Ain't Stamp Collecting really grand?

KLANKETY KLANK KING KONG KOLLECTION: Just in case you have an excess mazuma of 250,000 bucks, perhaps you might be interested to purchase the general collection of a provincial collector, who is kissing it goodbye for 250,000 pesos only. Strong is stamps of the Oriental countries; the collection consists of 58,000 different major varieties (normal stamps to you) with a catalog value of 700,000 pesos, according to information relayed to the PPC.

TRIVIA: Our Junior Unit is at present making a campaign for membership and Senior Kasama Federico Calero has offered a short set of the Madrid-Manila (2 to 30c) as a prize to any Junior Kasama who submits more Junior members. Kasamas Tony Calero, Henry West and Macario Tiomico, offered prizes for winners of the 2nd, 3rd and Honorable Mention prizes. Deadline for this campaign is Oct. 1...Kasama Luna resigned as chairman of the Committee of Auctioneers, his alibi being neither on account of a blonde nor a brunette but due to his private business. Kasama H on his way to the PPC the other day dropped at a barberhop downtown to get a shave and after the shave and a dash of massage, the barber soaked him 32 bucks! And 82 bucks these days is the cost of a box of 4 of the Food in the auction block. See you again...Peepesically yours, PABLO M. ESPERIDION, Secretary.
