

MAY 1, 1966

CAMPAIGN AGAINST SMUGGLING - FIRST DAY COVERS

To fulfil one of his campaign promises, President Ferdinand Marcos mounted an all-out campaign against smuggling with the assistance of the Bureau of Posts. It had been estimated that the government had been defrauded of taxes at more than a billion pesos a year. Popular items smuggled were US made cigarettes and textiles.

